

Surgery in History

13 May 2019, Warburg-Haus, Hamburg,
Heilwigstraße 116, 20249 Hamburg

9:30-10:00 Tea/Coffee and Welcome

10:00-12:15 German and Dutch Surgery

Sebastian Pranghofer - Surgeons in the Eighteenth-Century German Military: Career Opportunities and Practice

Annemarie Kinzelbach - Surgical Practice in Pre-Modern Imperial Cities

Leo van Bergen - Dutch Military Surgical and Medical Care in the Napoleonic Era

12:15-13:15 Lunch

13:15-14:45 British Surgery

Michael Brown - Wounds and Wonder: Emotion, Imagination, and War in the Cultures of Romantic Surgery

James Kennaway - Anglo-Saxons and Celts under the Knife: Racial Theory and Surgery in the British Isles, 1800-1914

14:45-15:15 Tea/Coffee

15:15-17:15 Contemporary Challenges

Lauren Ryall-Stockton - Displaying the Surgical Dead in the Medical Museum

Alison Moulds - Challenging Stereotypes of Surgical Detachment: Public and Professional Engagement

Agnes Arnold-Forster - 'Developing Emotional Armour': 'Resilience' in Twenty-First-Century Surgery

17:15-18:00 Reception

18:30 Dinner

For further information please contact Dr. James Kennaway (surgeryandemotion@roehampton.ac.uk) or Dr. Sebastian Pranghofer (sebastian.pranghofer@hsu-hh.de).